Wind does more than rustle Russell's tree

HURRICANE Katia has battered Milton Keynes and the rest of the UK with gale force winds for the past few blustery days.

But for one resident, this spelled disaster after a tree, blown over in the gusts, destroyed his rear garden.

On Monday, Russell Burnikell, 47, returned to his house on Vellan Avenue, in Fishermead, to find the tree had destroyed his fence, uprooted his shed and pulled down the guttering and some roof tiles from his house.

His garden furniture was also left in splinters and dog Rolo was scared by the ordeal.

But it's not all bad news – Russell hopes the sale of the tree for firewood will now pay to fix his fence.

Light up of major roads to leave residents in the dark

BY DAN PALMER

dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

LIGHTS on some of the city's major roads are to be switched back on, but that could plunge residential areas into the dark.

Grid road lights were switched off in July but the new Conservative administration of Milton Keynes Council now believes that this has made some areas unsafe.

They want to switch the lights on again near potentially dangerous areas such as junctions and bus stops, but to do this within budget other lights will have to be turned off.

A decision to turn 240 street lights off in the city has already been approved, and opposition Liberal Democrat councillors claim that these will mostly be around people's homes in Central Milton Keynes.

They argue that this would in fact reduce safety – the very thing the Conservatives are trying to improve.

Isobel McCall, a Lib Dem councillor for Campbell Park, said the Conservative-run council had claimed that the 240 lights would be in car parks.

However, she added that a map seen by her party revealed that most were in fact in residential streets.

She described this move as being 'absolutely appalling'.

"We were absolutely astonished when we saw the map," she said.

"This is going to make it more unsafe for residents.

"I spoke to one person who was worried that their car would now be easier to break into.

"It's really important that residents feel safe to come to and from their homes when it's dark, and good lighting helps people feel safe.

"I'm sure they will be furious when they find their street lights being turned off."

Cllr McCall has challenged the decision and hopes to see it blocked by a cross-party scrutiny committee.

She said: "I will do my best to get this overturned. It's not just local residents who walk in Central Milton Keynes, others are walking to and from offices, car parks, or the shops and nightlife."

Conservative councillor John Bint, who heads up transport for the ruling administration, said the lights to be turned off had been decided by council officers, and he said he believed that the vast majority would be appropriate.

He added that if any residents had any worries about particular lights then the decision to switch them off could be reconsidered.

"Some houses may be close enough to be affected," he said.

"I expect it would principally be homes behind the civic offices and the library.

"The original plan put forward by the Lib Dems was badly thought out and we have improved it considerably.

"There has been a thorough review and council officers found that it was unsafe to have switched off some grid road lights."

Site of contention: Sarah Bowron at the play park where construction has started on the outdoor table tennis table

Ding dong over ping-pong table

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A REVIEW of an outdoor table tennis table is being called for by one resident who fears it could become 'an alcohol and drugs den'.

Businesswoman Sarah Bowron's house backs on to the playing field in Kensington Drive, Great Holm, where construction has started on the table.

She says she and her neighbour already have issues with anti-social behaviour at the site, with young people playing loud music, drinking alcohol and urinating, and on one occasion her fence was even damaged. And now she is worried that the table, which is being built by Loughton Parish Council, could cause more problems.

She said: "I have no objection to the table tennis table – my objection is to its location.

"One side of the table has some bushes between it and the road, so it's completely sheltered from view on that side, and on another side it is completely sheltered by the community centre.

"It shouldn't be put in an area where there's antisocial behaviour and in a place where it's totally sheltered from the road.

"The only people it will ever disturb are me and my neighbours."

Ms Bowron has sent a letter of complaint to the parish council, her local MP Iain Stewart, the chief constable of Thames Valley Police Sara Thornton, and her local PCSO and policeman.

Ward and parish councillor Don Hoyle said he is now looking at the situation.

"I think it's still going through the processes of being built, but I have asked for it to be stopped until we can work out what's going on."

He added that he has also asked the parish council to consider monitoring the site and to investigate cars driving onto the area.

Eighth disorder charge

AN EIGHTH person has been charged with violent disorder following the troubles in Bletchley on August 9.

Aaron Cunningham, 18, from Westminster Drive, Bletchley, has also been charged with robbery at the Golden Palace takeaway.

He was released on bail and is due to appear at Aylesbury Crown Court on Friday.

Police hunt missing girl

POLICE are hunting for a 15-year-old girl who went missing from her home in Yardley Gobion on August 30.

Charlotte Saynor, known as Charli, is 5ft 3ins, slim, with pink-dyed hair which is usually dark brown. She was wearing a blue sweater with an 'omg' logo and denim dungarees.

Anyone with information should call police on 03000 111 222.

Fag ban meeting delay

A MEETING, which was due to take place on Tuesday, to discuss a proposed smoking ban in Stony Stratford has been postponed by Cllr Paul Bartlett, and is now expected to take place in January.

Bid to retain taxes cash

EIGHTY per cent of what the council raises in tax from businesses should be retained to spend locally.

That is according to Liberal Democrat group leader, Councillor Sam Crooks, who feels Milton Keynes Council should take a 'new and radical approach' when it responds to a Government consultation on how tax is collected.

Currently when the council collects tax from businesses, it is immediately sent to central Government, where the cumulative tax is redistributed to local authorities depending on need.

This means, out of around £120million currently collected by Milton Keynes Council, it only receives around £62million, and much of this is ringfenced and needs to be spent on areas designated by the Government.

At a full council meeting last night, Cllr Crooks was due to ask for support for his idea, which he says would allow the council to make its own decisions on how money is spent.

He said: "There has to be a redistributed element to support councils which aren't as well off, but I would encourage as high an amount as equitable be retained."

House fire victim's death was an accident

A WOMAN who was killed in a fire at her home died as a result of an accident, a coroner has ruled.

Sixty-year-old Sandra Loosley was found on the sofa of her bungalow on Ashby in Eaglestone on June 21 by firefighters.

Coroner Tom Osborne recorded that she died of asphixiation and fire-related carbon monoxide poisoning after a fire in the bedroom, which is believed to have been started when the bed caught light, either from a cigarette or lighter.

It is believed the fire could have started one to two hours before the alarm was raised.

Troubled play area could be removed

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

THE future of a controversial playground is due to be discussed by planning chiefs tomorrow.

The playsite in Far Holme, near Southside Lane, Milton Keynes Village, was closed in March amid antisocial behaviour claims.

Police had to increase patrols in the area following complaints from residents to Milton Keynes Council.

It was reported that there were up to 50 children in the park at any one time and because of the layout of the houses the noise was becoming a nuisance.

Tomorrow, ward councillor John Bint is expected to put forward a motion at the Development Control Committee meeting for the play area to be dismantled.

The motion asks the council to: 'Note the indications from the developer that they would be minded to submit an amendment application to the approved scheme and associated section 106 agreement on receipt of some general indication (without obligation, pre-determination or bias) that such an amendment would receive fair consideration'.

Cllr Bint said: "I am fully supportive of the residents' campaign to have it closed.

"It has taken a disappointingly long time to get to this stage.

"I very much hope the committee will send a positive message to the applicant that they would be happy to consider a change in the plan, and the applicant can dismantle it and take their big toys somewhere else.

"For instance the Oakgrove estate needs some play areas and some of this may be appropriate there."

To find out what happens at the meeting, log onto www.mk-news.co.uk on Friday.

Tree narrowly misses child

CHILDREN playing in a park on Friday afternoon had a very lucky escape - after a 90-foot tree fell on to a climbing frame.

Just minutes before, a young boy was reportedly playing on the equipment in Rushmere Close, Bow Brickhill, but had moved before the 250-year-old black poplar collapsed.

Elizabeth Daly, who was picking her children up from school at the time, said: "The kids were all playing and it just fell over.

"There had been a boy that was playing on there literally two minutes before it came down. There was no warning or anything."

Other witnesses to the incident said the noise was like thunder, and a large plume of dust was sent into the air after it fell.

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Council, which owns the land where the park is situated, said the site will remain cordoned off until it has been inspected.

He added: "As the fallen tree was growing on private land, we are currently in discussions with the landowner about the removal of the tree and ensuring that the damage is addressed.

"Obviously the main thing is that no child was playing on the equipment when this tree fell and we will work with the landowner to identify why this tree fell."

Man stabbed in Fishermead

A MAN was stabbed by an assailant who leapt out of the bushes in Fishermead on Sunday.

Between 7.30 and 7.45pm, the 26-year-old was walking through shrubbery off the V8 Marlborough Street when a man appeared from the bushes and stabbed him with a knife, causing cuts to his arm and shoulder.

The assailant is black, 6ft, slim, and was wearing a hooded top and a scarf covering his face.

Anyone with information should call 0845 8 505 505.

Different MP for Bletchley?

ONE of the most densely-populated parts of the borough of Milton Keynes could soon be voting for a different MP.

Yesterday, the Boundary Commission for England began a consultation with regards to constituency areas across the country.

As part of its proposals, Bletchley, Fenny Stratford and Water Eaton would no longer be part of the Milton Keynes South seat, currently held by Iain Stewart.

People living in those areas would instead be voting for the Buckinghamshire MP.

Mr Stewart said: "Population growth has meant that the electorate of both current Milton Keynes seats are too high.

"These are only initial proposals to have the correct number of voters in each seat.

"There are other possible options and I shall be consulting with the affected communities to see which is the best one."

The proposals would also see those living in the Campbell Park and Bradwell wards transferred to Milton Keynes South, while those living in the Danesborough seat, including Woburn Sands, and Walton Park would move to Milton Keynes North, currently represented by Mark Lancaster.

'Unbelievable' lorry plan

SIR - I read with amazement your article 'Bid to get a green light for lorry park' (MK NEWS, September 7).

So, last year Fen Farm (now part of Magna Park), a secure lorry park with facilities which had been open for years, closes.

It was the location of many small local businesses and numerous hauliers, leaving them having to find alternative business premises and in one case personal accommodation.

Now councillors have the genius idea that Magna Park is the obvious site for a lorry park for Milton Keynes. Absolutely unbelievable.

Support our NHS

SIR - I fail to understand why Mr Wallace (Letters, MK NEWS, September 7) is insisting that we have to accept the Coalition's cuts in the NHS unless we can come up with an alternative for the future management of it. What exactly is wrong with the NHS that needs to be so desperately changed?

The Health Secretary Andrew Lansley has still not come up with a single reason for this.

A recent study in the Journal of the Royal Society of Medicine showed that the NHS is the most efficient service in the world in lives saved per pound spent.

There is not one shred of evidence that these cuts will benefit the people who use the NHS the most.

On the contrary, creating an American-style health care system, which is exactly what is being done, will result in the denial of care for those who need it, at a huge cost to the taxpayer.

The general public are being conned into believing that they are being listened to by politicians speaking of patients' rights and choices, but even the King's Fund admit that the rights of patients to challenge poor services and lack of choice is only going to be given 'consideration to its feasibility'.

The £20billion in cuts which are currently being forced through could result in 10 per cent of hospitals in England going bankrupt and forced to close, that is why the Department of Health are already in talks with companies like German firm Helios who have a record for cutting staff, wages and charging patients for their treatment.

Europe already control our energy having been sold off by our politicians previously, should we give them control of our health as well?

I cannot help but question the actions of MPs who say they have a responsibility to taxpayers and use this as reasons for the cuts they are making in our NHS and Social Fund and then continue to waste our cash in other ways.

David Cameron, for instance, who in his first months in office created 118 new members of the House of Lords at a cost to the taxpayer of £108,000 each.

Other MPs continue to employ their close relatives as assistants on our money while we have to put up with long unemployment queues.

I would sooner have my money pumped into the NHS than the deep pockets of politicians.

If these so-called representatives of the British people put as much effort into collecting taxes from those who continue to avoid payment through tax evasion the whole country could benefit instead of just certain greedy individuals.

The British Virgin Islands for instance have 25,000 inhabitants and 800,000 companies registered there.

Mr Wallace may be right when he says that Labour would not have done anything differently had they won the election - that could be true, they are after all politicians - but we will never know.

My concern is the government we did get, and one that has shown it cares very little for the people they are supposed to represent.

We should all be asking our MPs why they have supported these cuts that are regarded as totally unnecessary by the vast majority of medical staff working in our NHS.

Bill Green
Wolverton

Time to tackle deprivation

SIR - Adam Thompson's article ('Call for 'action' to reduce nine-year life expectancy gap', September 7) makes the shocking point that in this day and age, in a city as enlightened and new as Milton Keynes, there is significant deprivation in some areas.

It is all very well for councillors Nigel Long and Hannah O'Neill to wring their hands.

For far too long the council has expected parish councils like the Woughton Community Council to tackle extremely difficult social issues piecemeal without knowledge and expertise.

As a result, huge sums of money have been and are still frittered away aimlessly.

The deprivation levels are published annually and the lack of progress in tackling the shameful inequalities in expectations and life spans have been known for years.

It's high time (yet again) that Milton Keynes Council took responsibility for some of the most difficult problems in our community instead of sweeping them under the carpet.

The solution is to provide central direction and money to tackle the underlying causes of deprivation.

Through a series of well targeted projects aimed at housing, education, health, employment and crime, we, the public, should expect to see the same steady improvements achieved in many other UK, inner-city areas.

This is a matter that should concern us all.

Andrew Humphries

There is value in manure

SIR - Regarding the story 'Officers' horse manure' (MK NEWS, August 24).

When I was a girl I was often sent out with a bucket and shovel to collect the manure left by a milman's or baker's horse.

It was very good for the garden, both vegetables and flowers.

Obviously our more modern residents do not value its worth.

Audrey Lambert

Thanks for your support

SIR - Morrisons supermarkets have adopted Save the Children as their charity of the year, part of this support being to sponsor the ITV series Born to Shine.

To supplement this, a Save the Children Roadshow with members of dance group Diversity has been touring Morrisons stores in the UK, reaching Milton Keynes last month (MK NEWS, August 24).

A team from HQ was backed by volunteers from the Ousedale School (Newport Pagnell/Olney) branch of Save the Children.

We would like to thank the management and staff of Morrisons at Westcroft and all their customers who hosted and supported this event.

Despite awful weather the marvellous sum of £1,067.77 was raised. Thanks go to everyone connected with Morrisons, Milton Keynes, who helped us to achieve this.

Donations are appreciated

SIR - On a permit granted by Milton Keynes Council I made a street collection on behalf of the Nyanyaano Development Project Committee in the city centre on September 3.

I raised £126.28 and the total amount will go to the committee to provide extensions of the pipelines now in place to the groups of houses in the town, to provide more public toilets and allow work to begin on setting up a secondary technical training school to teach the necessary skills required for the development and maintainance of the community's infrastructure.

I would like to thank all those who made a donation in support of the development project, which is in Ghana, West Africa.

What is happening to city?

SIR - I read with horror about the stabbing in Walnut Tree, such a pleasant area of Milton Keynes.

What is our city coming too? I moved from London several years ago and always thought MK is a safe place to live.

But more and more I read in your paper about people being attacked.

There were the teenagers who were shot in the head and even on the estate I live on a young woman was stabbed and beaten to death.

It's all well and good for police commander Nikki Ross to speak words of assurance and say there will be more patrols for a few days.

What we need is a bigger police presence on our streets every day and night, not just after someone has been killed.

Report on future of day nurseries comes under fire

A REPORT into the possible future of council-run day nurseries has been heavily criticised by parents and councillors.

As previously reported by MK NEWS, three0 nurseries - Little Chestnuts in Bletchley, Westcroft Day Nursery and Fledglings in Kents Hill - are facing closure as part of Milton Keynes Council's budget cuts.

A consultation took place over the summer, during which council officers spoke to interested parties and came up with a list of possible future options, with the findings presented to the Children and Young Person's Select Committee last Wednesday.

But they were slammed by those who attended, who felt important information was omitted that could have helped the committee make an informed decision.

Shenley Brook End Parish councillor David Livingstone said the consultation was 'disgraceful', as the report did not include a large document put together by the parish council that demonstrated how it would take on the running of Westcroft nursery.

At the meeting, officers said this was not provided as it was commercially sensitive information.

The select committee also expressed its concern over 'the paucity' of information and referred this to the council's chief executive David Hill 'for an immediate improvement in this process in the future'.

HS2 'should move closer to MK'

THE need for a new high speed rail link is being supported by Milton Keynes Council - but it wants to see the route changed to allow for a stop closer to the city.

In response to the Government's HS2 consultation, the authority has said it could 'create realistic potential to enhance local and regional economic performance'.

But it also says a station closer to Milton Keynes would make the borough even more attractive to future businesses.

Transport councillor John Bint said: "MK Council takes the view that such a station should not necessarily be seen as an intermediate stop between London and Birmingham, but as part of a national/European network of high-speed links."

The council's response was outlined at last Tuesday's cabinet meeting.

Pub murder trial postponed

THE trial of a man accused of murdering his sister's partner has been stopped and the jury discharged from bringing a verdict.

A retrial of 35-year-old Bernardo Durantes, who is alleged to have murdered Jaime Ball, 29, at The Globe Inn in Hanslope on December 28, will now have to take place.

Judge Richard Foster stopped the trial at Luton Crown Court on Friday, saying it had to be halted for 'legal reasons'.

Calling the jury back into court, he told them he had decided the trial must stop and start again.

A date of March 5, 2012, was fixed for the retrial, with efforts to be made for it to be heard sooner.

Mr Durantes has pleaded not guilty to the charge.

‘Slaves’ found at park

TWENTY-FOUR ‘slaves’ were rescued from a travellers’ site in a huge raid on Sunday involving around 200 police officers.

Five people, including a pregnant woman, were arrested at the Green Acres Caravan Park, near Leighton Buzzard, under the new Slavery and Servitude Act 2010. The woman was released on bail and the four men appeared at Luton Magistrates’ Court yesterday.

The 24 men released from the site were mainly of British origin, including one 17-year-old, with the others from Poland, Latvia and Lithuania.

It is believed some of the men could have been living on the site for up to 15 years.

DCI Sean O’Neil, from Bedfordshire Police, said: “The men were in a poor state of physical health and the conditions they were living in were shockingly filthy and cramped.”

Tributes are paid to ‘devoted’ dad David

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

THE family of the man killed at his home in Walnut Tree last week paid a moving tribute to him yesterday.

Father David Law, 33, pictured, died in hospital last Monday from multiple stab wounds after being found in the garden of his home in Lichfield Down.

He leaves behind his son David, mum Lynn, dad David, stepmother Maureen, brother Adam and sisters Sam and Tracey.

A family statement read: “Dave was a happy-go-lucky guy, with a great sense of humour who was always joking and had lots of friends. Dave’s family was his life and he would help any of us if we needed him. He was devoted to his son David and had moved to Walnut Tree from the city centre so he could be near to him and see him whenever he needed to.

“He was with him every weekend, they both learnt karate together and went to the car boot every week.

“He was not just a brother, a son and a dad, but a best friend as well and we are all heartbroken.”

David’s girlfriend Naureen Kahn said: “His passing has left a deep darkness in my life. I cannot imagine how I will go on, but for you Dave I will.”

■ Suresh Nahar, 32, of Fishermead, has been charged with murder and remanded in custody until his next court appearance on November 28.

Decision due to be made on golf course homes plan

CAMPAIGNERS are expected to pack out the council chambers tomorrow to hear a decision on plans to build 89 homes on a golf course.

A proposal is on the table to build the properties at Windmill Hill golf course in Bletchley but more than 400 residents have signed a petition against the plans.

They claim the development will lead to traffic, flooding and noise problems and are also against the loss of open space.

The applicant, course owner Golf Course Management, also wants to build a smaller, more financially viable clubhouse.

But West Bletchley Parish Council has registered its opposition to the idea and hopes to see strength in numbers at tomorrow’s meeting of Milton Keynes Council’s Development Control Committee, which begins at 7pm.

Parish councillor Elaine Wales said: “I have been working with residents and other councillors for many months to oppose this unwelcome application.

“We will hopefully defeat it at the planning committee and need a big turnout, we aim to protect our open space.”

Taking a look at life in the city

VETERAN reporter Jon Brett, pictured right, returns to write exclusively for MK NEWS next week with a new column that takes a look at everyday life in Milton Keynes.

Having lived in the city since 1979, Jon started his career in local newspapers in 1988 and since then has worked for national newspapers, appeared on local radio and television and enjoyed a successful career in public relations.

His column has no agenda and a wide-ranging remit to look at, or take a look back at, what makes Milton Keynes special and unique.

Jon said: “I know the important role that local newspapers play in the community and I’m thrilled to have the opportunity to write for MK NEWS again.”

Bidding war for new waste plant

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

FOUR leading waste industry names are to battle it out to design, build and operate a new waste treatment facility.

Milton Keynes Council has announced a shortlist of companies which are in the running for a contract to deal with the authority's residual, or 'black sack' waste, for a period of between ten and 15 years.

It is expected the new facility, which could be in full operation by April 2016, will divert waste from landfill by offering additional recycling, and rubbish that cannot be reused will be used for renewable energy via, for example, biological or thermal treatments.

The council is offering a site in Dickens Road, Old Wolverton, on which to build the new facility and is only seeking solutions which comply with its no mass-burn incineration policy.

The four short-listed bidders are Amey Cespa, FCC working with WRG, New Earth REMONDIS Consortium and Viridor.

Andy Hudson, the council's head of environment and waste, said: "We believe the four bidders selected represent a strong field which will bring both UK and Europe-wide experience in developing an excellent solution for Milton Keynes."

It is anticipated the preferred bidder will be selected in September 2012.

Leading role for a city champion

SEMLEP chairman: Dr Ann Limb OBE

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A KEY figure in the development of Milton Keynes and one of the figureheads of the city's World Cup host bid has been named chairman of a major regional development partnership.

Dr Ann Limb OBE, who was chairman of the Milton Keynes 2018 World Cup bid and led the development quango MK Partnership, has been chosen to head up the South East Midlands Local Enterprise Partnership (SEMLEP).

Incorporating Milton Keynes, Bedford, Luton and Northampton, SEMLEP is a Government-approved partnership with the aim of increasing business and growing the economy of the area.

Dr Limb said: "SEMLEP is a new idea, it's what the Government wants and when you have a new idea, you have to get people to understand what it is and does.

"What we were doing with the World Cup was trying to get the message across that what's good for Milton Keynes is good for a wider region, and that's the same for SEMLEP - what's good for one place is good for the others."

"We've got some really interesting hi-tech industries here and we want to get ourselves known more for that kind of thing, so we have to promote ourselves.

"The big challenge is to grow businesses and communities and get people investing, to get people to come here instead of staying in London.

"We want jobs here, people to spend money here and to stay here."

Hedgehog 'used as football' dies

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

THE owner of a wildlife rescue centre is 'disgusted' after youths used a hedgehog as a football.

The baby hedgehog, or hoglet, was dropped into the Ark Wildlife Hospital in Bradville on Friday, September 2.

The person who dropped it off said she had seen young people using it as a fooball in Fishermead.

The hedgehog, estimated to be between four and six weeks old, suffered multiple injuries, including lacerations to its face, a gash on its shoulder and breathing problems, which were consistent with broken ribs.

Although it was taken to a vet, it died later that evening from the trauma.

Margaret Burke, owner of Ark Wildlife Hospital, said the last time she had a case like this was three or four years ago, but unfortunately it does happen.

She said: "It's just a terrible waste of life, a terrible thing for those people to have done.

"It's disgusting quite honestly - if they are like that with animals, what are they like with people?

Margaret Burke from Ark Wildlife Hospital with a rescued hedgehog

"Hedgehogs are already on the decline. It's just awful."

The RSPCA is now investigating the incident.

A spokesman said: "An inspector will look into it.

"It clearly sounds, on the face of it, a very distressing incident, and we would urge anyone with any information, no matter how small, to contact the RSPCA cruelty line on 0300 1234 999."

Anyone wishing to donate to Ark Wildlife Hospital should e-mail Margaret on arkwh@hotmail.co.uk.

Church helps mark anniversary of 9/11

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A POIGNANT and moving city commemoration of the 9/11 attacks was displayed to the country on Sunday.

The congregation at the Church of Christ the Cornerstone in CMK was featured on BBC1's Songs of Praise as part of a tenth anniversary commemorative look back at the atrocities in New York in 2001.

Singing hymns including Be Still My Soul and May There be Peace on Earth, church director of music Adrian Boynton said the congregation was proud to be involved in such a historical day.

"The hymns chosen were ones that powerfully reflected the emotions people would be feeling on that particular day," he said.

"There was a great feeling of unity and solidarity, a great feeling of pride that we in Milton Keynes had been invited to do this particular programme, a feeling that we were honoured to be asked to do it."

Three thousand people died in the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Centre and Mr Boynton believes the city was chosen to be involved, not to look back, but to look forward to the future.

"I think the BBC felt that we are a very young and forward-looking city that looks forward to a positive and brighter future," he said.

"They wanted really to reflect that in the programme and that's why there was a very strong element of young people taking part.

"We are looking forward to the future with hope and that's what it's all about."

Plans to use area code for city calls

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

PEOPLE in Milton Keynes may have to dial the area code when making local phone calls because of a shortage of numbers.

On Thursday, communications watchdog Ofcom announced a new scheme to 'safeguard the future supply of landline numbers' across the UK.

It says the increase in the number of communications suppliers over the past six years has increased pressure on the supply of landline telephone numbers.

Now it will begin implementing a scheme whereby phone users in those areas where spare numbers are 'very scarce', such as Milton Keynes, will have to start dialling the 01908 area code to reach other local numbers.

A spokesman for Ofcom said: "There's lots more new build accommodation and lots more businesses.

"Businesses starting up may want to provide direct dials for everyone in the company and there's more pressure on providers due to there being more residents and businesses.

"Currently with the second, main part of a phone number, we can't allocate numbers beginning with 07 as that's for mobiles, or 118 as that's for directory numbers.

"But if people have to start dialling the area codes, that makes those kinds of numbers available to us."

City residents may need to dial the area code in future

Ofcom expects these measures could be needed first in Bournemouth by mid-2012, and believes the changes may also be needed in Milton Keynes by 2016.

Currently the city is third on the list of areas with regards to scarcity of numbers.

Coppers hand out cashpoint warning

POLICE are warning residents to be vigilant after a cashpoint was 'tampered with'.

At about 11.30am last Wednesday, officers were called to the machine outside the Co-op in Wordsworth Avenue, Newport Pagnell, where they found a device placed on it which had retained customers' cards.

The officers seized the device for examination.

PC Mark Poulton, from Newport Pagnell Police Station, said: "This is not the first time this cash machine has been targeted by criminals and I would like to hear from anyone with information which can help identify the offenders."

Anyone with information about this incident should contact the police via the 24-hour non-emergency number 0845 8 505 505.

If you do not want to speak to the police, call the Crimestoppers charity, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Out of order: A warning letter on the cash machine

Eastender set to a-Preeya in city

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

EASTENDERS star Preeya Kalida will soon return to our screens as Amira Masood in the popular BBC1 drama.

But if you can't wait that long to see her, she is appearing on stage at Milton Keynes Theatre on Sunday as part of DiverseArtsLive!

The actress and singer, pictured, currently has a new single, It's a Problem, and MK NEWS manged to catch her during her busy schedule to ask her a few questions.

On DiverseArtsLive! she said: "An event like this is very important.

"This event will not only embrace and showcase some great talents from the community, but it also encourages people to get together and appreciate the diversity within our lives.

"It is a great way to show that community spirit is high and equality knows no bounds.

"I am glad to be a part of this event and help to support local talent, as I would not be where I am today without the support from my community."

Asked whether she has been involved in anything like this before, she said: "I have been involved in many different events, however every one is different and carries a different purpose.

"This is the first time I have performed in Milton Keynes though so I am looking forward to it."

And finally, what should theatre-goers expect from the show and her performance?

"They will have to wait and see, but they shall be seeing something that reflects my personality and passion through music," she said.

You can find out more about Preeya on Twitter @Preeyakalidas, or on www.preeyakalidasofficial.com.

Tickets for Sunday cost £10 from www.atgtickets.com, or 0844 8717652.

Battery recycling goes borough-wide

By the end of September, all properties in the borough should have received their new supply of pink and black recycling and refuse sacks, as well as the new yellow battery recycling collection bag.

Our waste contractor Serco had already collected enough batteries to fill our first pallet by mid-August, when only around half of the borough had taken delivery of the yellow collection bags. This is excellent news as these batteries have now been sent to be recycled instead of going to landfill where they pollute the environment.

If you do not receive your new supply of sacks by the end of the month, you have until the end of October to let the council know so that arrangements can be made to re-deliver to your property.

You will need to contact the Environmental Services Contact Centre by email: recycling@milton-keynes.gov.uk or by calling 01908 252570.

As soon as you receive your new yellow battery collection bag, you can start recycling used batteries. Simply place the batteries in the bag, seal it and put it out on top of your green food and garden waste bin.

If you don't use a green food and garden waste bin, you can put your battery bag on top of a neighbour's green bin or take used batteries to one of the many collection points at supermarkets, large electrical retailers, our Community Recycling Centres or Milton Keynes Library.

The yellow bags must be placed on top of the green bin as they are collected on the food and garden waste collection vehicle. It is essential that yellow bags are not mixed in with pink or black sacks, as batteries are not suitable for compaction vehicles due to Health and Safety issues.

Each time you put out a battery collection bag, we will leave a new bag tucked under the lid of the green bin so you can start you next collection of used batteries.

For residents in the few remaining areas which have yet to receive the yellow battery bags, these are now available to pick up at our three Community Recycling Centres and also at Bletchley and Fenny Stratford Town Council offices.

For further information on recycling and waste collections in Milton Keynes, visit the council's website at www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/recycling, email: recycling@milton-keynes.gov.uk or call the Environmental Services Contact Centre on 01908 252570.

Place the yellow battery bag on top of any size green food and garden waste bin – if you don't have one, ask a neighbour if you could put your battery bag on top of their green bin.

A year of events to thank charity

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A YOUNG mother who was diagnosed with cancer just over a year ago is now going to spend the next 12 months raising money for charity.

Eleanor Harwood, 41, from Stony Stratford, was diagnosed with bowel cancer last summer, and is now coming towards the end of her treatment.

She said following the shock of her diagnosis, she found solace and support in the Macmillan website, and even began writing a blog about her experiences.

"I used the site a lot," she said. "They've got a huge amount of information, but there's also an online community with forums and blogs.

"When I first got diagnosed, I had so many people to tell and keep updated, the blog I started was really to keep family and friends informed.

"But what I hadn't realised is how many people on there read each others' blogs and they share experiences and are really supportive, as well as giving practical advice."

It is for these reasons that the mum-of-two has decided to start raising money for the charity.

She will be organising and taking part in a number of events over the next year, starting with the World's Biggest Coffee Morning on Friday, September 30.

She said: "I will probably do a sponsored walk as well in Oxford in October and I'm hoping to have a couple of at-home parties and a big party next summer.

"I've set a target of £1,000, but I think I will blow that this year, so will just keep on raising money."

Eleanor's coffee morning will take place at Stony Stratford methodist church, in Silver Street, from 10am to noon.

To donate to her drive, visit www.justgiving.com/year-for-macmillan.

MP pleased with apprenticeships

A CITY MP has welcomed recent figures which reveal the take-up of apprenticeships in his constituency has increased far above the national average.

Milton Keynes South MP Iain Stewart, pictured, was pleased to learn that 730 new apprenticeships were started in his constituency for the first three quarters of the new academic year.

This represents a 28 per cent increase from figures quoted for the previous full academic year.

The data also revealed the increase in the number of new apprenticeships was much larger than compared to the seven per cent for the south east, and 17 per cent in England as a whole.

Mr Stewart said: "I am really delighted by these figures as it goes a long way to confirm Milton Keynes as one of the cities to watch for economic recovery."

School fete is a knockout

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A HEAVYWEIGHT celebrity attended the relaunch of a school on Saturday.

Former champion boxer and Leighton Buzzard resident Frank Bruno paid a visit to Webber Independent School, formerly Bury Lawn, in Stantonbury Fields as it celebrated its relaunch with a Carnival Day Spectacular.

The event attracted hundreds of people, including mayor Alan Richards, who were using it as an opportunity to see the school, which offers private education for three to 18-year-olds.

On the day, new radio station MKFM provided the music and broadcast the event live, with Mr Bruno providing some impromptu freestyle rapping.

Dance troupe FranticMK also performed live and children enjoyed an array of activities, including sumo wrestling, penalty shoot-outs, cake decorating and face-painting.

Principal Sue Vig said: "We would just like to say a huge thank you to everyone who attended our carnival, the day was a great success.

"It was wonderful to see so many new faces and we hope the local community continues to embrace The Webber Independent School."

MEP backs city for growth

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

AN ECONOMIC and political powerhouse has visited Milton Keynes on a tour of its businesses, and says the city could be an 'engine for growth'.

Sharon Bowles, chairman of the European Parliament's Economic and Monetary Affairs Committee and Lib Dem MEP for the South East, gave an exclusive interview to MK NEWS on her recent tour of the city.

When asked about the role Milton Keynes can play in country's economic recovery, she said: "Any area that's very dynamic, with local young people and businesses ranging from small start-ups to bigger international ones, that's where there's the engine for growth.

"It's horrible when you have to pay back debt and you can't get as much investment, and that's when the private sector has to take over.

"Many people don't understand Milton Keynes. It's very dynamic with loads going on, like sports and business, that a lot of other places have spent a long time campaigning to get.

"People come here and want to contribute to the economy."

Talking about the state of the European economy, Ms Bowles, who is recognised as one of the most influential people in international economic affairs, said the country ignores the Euro at its peril.

"The thing that's not recognised a great deal by the man in the street is if something dire happens to the Euro, we go down with it," she said.

Dad's ten-mile dribble to aid cancer charity

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A DRIBBLING dad completed a ten-mile challenge in aid of charity after his six-year-old son was diagnosed with high-risk leukaemia.

Devoted Rob Pritchard completed Dad's Ten-Mile Dribble in aid of Leukaemia and Lymphoma Research.

He dribbled a ball from énergie Fitness for Women in Newport Pagnell and finished just three hours later at Fit4less in the Theatre District.

Rob's number one fan at the fundraiser on Saturday, September 3, was son Lucas, who watched on in admiration as his dad completed the challenge.

In September 2010, Lucas was diagnosed with leukaemia after feeling sick during an U6 training session at Newport Pagnell Town FC.

Football games and school lessons have since been replaced by twice-weekly trips to hospital.

On the day, Sainsbury's at The Hub welcomed donations and street collections also took place across Milton Keynes, raising a total of £300.

Rob said: "I would just like to say a huge thank you to everyone who has supported me during the past months. It has been a huge challenge both physically and mentally, but when I crossed the finish line it made all the hard work worthwhile."

Anyone who would like to donate can visit www.justgiving.com/lucaspritchard.

Devoted: Rob Pritchard and his son Lucas

Hundreds of fundraisers get on their bikes

GET On Your Bike 2011 is already being hailed as a great success, with hundreds of people turning up to the event on Sunday to raise money for Cancer Research UK.

Last year's event raised £24,000, and although at this early stage there is no way of knowing how much was raised on Sunday, one couple did raise more than £1,000.

The event was luckily not affected by the weather, as all ages turned up to take part in the seven and 15-mile cycle events, as well as the new off-road 'bridle' route.

A success story from the day was young mum Erin, who herself recently went through treatment for breast cancer and decided at the last minute to take part in the event.

She won the grand prize in the lucky dip, that all riders were entered in to, which was a new bike courtesy of Corley Cycles.

Goats go on boats to ramble and help clear bramble

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A SMALL herd of goats has taken a trip in a boat to return to their annual island home for three months - all in the name of conservation.

The four animals, named Calib, Pygmy, Jared and Nathan, travelled by boat to the north Willen Lake's island, where they will spend the next three months in order to control weeds and brambles.

North Willen Lake, cared for by The Parks Trust, is one of the best sites for birds in the region.

The island's inaccessibility makes it an ideal sanctuary for ground nesting birds such as ducks, greylag geese, little egret and herons.

But bramble thrives on the island and threatens to smother many of the places where these birds love to nest - and that is where the goats come in.

The Parks Trust volunteers coordinator Martin Kincaid said: "The island provides an ideal habitat for nesting birds and we want to encourage as rich and varied a bird population as possible at this site.

"Getting machinery to the island is difficult so using goats to munch through the brambles is a great environmentally-friendly way to encourage wildlife."

Willen island will provide the goats with plenty of food to forage for, water and natural shelter.

The herd of goats will be cared for by the trust's staff and volunteers who will visit them regularly on their island home.

New home: Two of the goats look out towards the island at North Willen Lake, where they have been sent to help maintain the habitat for birds

RUN FOR YOUR LIFE

Matt Cardle

IF ANY song title acted as a warning, this is it.

'Matt Cardle's got a new song out. Run For Your Life.' You see? What's more, if you listen to what Mr Cardle's singing, he agrees with what I'm saying, disturbingly so in fact.

Forget the tune, because I already have.

The few fading memories I have regarding the melody are that it was plodding, boring and that Blue would have sung something to it about ten years ago.

So, the words. Now don't get me wrong, his singing's fine, the problem's with what he's singing.

"You need somebody who likes themself, who lives for life and never calls for help," begins the story.

Yeah, a start like that ought to put a smile on the faces of his adoring fans.

"You're worth more than this," he continues, hopefully taking this particular line on board in a personal capacity.

You can't tell me that Matt Cardle was given this song and seriously thought to himself 'Yes, this is just the right song to lay out a statement of intent for my post X Factor career,' can you?

This is one of the most miserable, gloomy and depressing songs I've ever listened to, never has a song been so aptly titled.

THECENTRE:MK

AN INAUGRAL exhibition of sculpture in thecentre:mk opens today.

Featuring works by artists with public art displayed throughout the city, the event also marks the launch of the Public Arts Trust Milton Keynes - a new charity which will conserve and champion our artistic heritage.

Exhibition space has been provided in the North Mall (adjacent to John Lewis) to give visitors a new dimension to their shopping experience.

You will be able to wander among the diverse pieces, which include imposing works in bronze, marble, copper wire and even pine needles.

The curator is Johann Bester of Bedford Street Gallery who recently organised the successful Woburn Artbeat and sculpture exhibition in the grounds of Woburn Abbey.

The city is blessed with works of public art in its parks, city squares and buildings (including eight notable sculptures in the shopping centre), but much of it is at risk of deteriorating if action is not taken to preserve and maintain it.

The Public Arts Trust aims to become custodians of existing public art in MK as well as commissioning new works to enhance the quality of life in our city.

Chairman of trustees, Ian Michie, sees the exhibition as a first step to raising awareness of the trust, which is seeking support from businesses and the community.

Commercial solicitors Kimbells are sponsoring the exhibition as a celebration of its 25th anniversary in MK.

HEART FM COLUMN

HEART breakfast show presenters Stuart and Natalie wake you up each weekday morning and write to you each week in MK NEWS.

Ulrika Jonsson came in to tell us about her new book The Importance of being Murtle and we played a game with her as we'd heard she was a fan of children's author Roald Dahl.

Our first question was did she prefer Roald Dahl or Tarka Dahl?

Ulrika told us she was indeed a big fan of Roald Dahl, which was a relief.

Next up we wanted to know how well she remembered the books, starting with Mr Twit and what she would do to him if he was her husband.

She said: "I would have built one shoe higher than the others, among other things."

We also asked her which character she would be in Charlie and the Chocolate Factory?

Ulrika replied, "Everyone wants to be Charlie, as he's such a charming, endearing sweet little boy, but honestly I'd like to be Veruca Salt. I mean only Roald Dahl could get away with a character like her."

Finally we asked what she had in her handbag that we could add to George's marvellous Medicine?

Ulrika answered 'Vodka' and then offered a very gorgeous and expensive lip balm or one of her chewing gums.

The most important question we wanted to know was if it annoyed her when people called her Ulrika ka ka kaa (Shooting Stars).

She said: "It's actually one of the nicer things people call me."

Stuart and Natalie present Heart Breakfast Monday to Friday from 6-10am on Heart 103.3FM.

JOURNEY'S END

Tuesday-Saturday, September 24

MAYBE he thought it would be fun. Maybe he just wanted to 'do his bit'.

Whatever it was that made 16-year-old Albert French of Wolverton lie about his age, the consequence could not have been more tragic.

Almost two years into the carnage of the First World War that was raging throughout Northern France and Belgium, Albert, though officially much too young, was sent to the Western Front. By pretending to be 19 he was able to enlist in the King's Royal Rifle Corps. What Albert could not have known was that he would not live to see his 17th birthday.

He was killed fighting at Ploegsteert in Belgium when he was still just 16. Similarly, no-one at the time could have known that 90 odd years later, because of his association with the place, Albert's home town of Wolverton would be twinned with Ploegsteert.

Albert's story is not an isolated one. On July 1, 1916, the first day of the Battle of the Somme, almost 20,000 British men died in little more than 12 hours of bloody carnage. Many of them were not yet out of their teens.

Robert Cedric Sherriff was luckier than many. He saw action with the 9th East Surrey Regiment at Vimy and Loos before being badly wounded, aged just 21, at Passchendaele in 1917.

But he survived and his experience as a soldier inspired him to write Journey's End. And though it is more than 80 years since RC Sherriff's play was first staged, don't be fooled into thinking this is a dusty old museum piece given an airing just to bore the pants off school parties.

Graham Butler as 2nd Lieutenant Raleigh in Journey's End. Picture courtesy of Geraint Lewis

In the run-up to the final, dreadful German offensive of March 1918, you can almost smell the growing sense of fear that slowly and insidiously creeps through the claustrophobic dug-out of Sherriff's officers.

Eighteen-year-old 2nd Lieutenant Raleigh is the new arrival in the company, commanded by his former schoolboy friend, Captain Stanhope. Despite the relentlessly cheery public school expressions, the stiff upper lips are beginning to wobble in the face of the catalogue of daily horrors.

Stanhope, the brightest star in the old boy firmament though little more than a boy himself, is a natural leader among men but even he has to regularly down a bottle of whisky just to steady his shattered nerves.

Where all around him young men have been killed, it is Stanhope's tragedy that he has survived to witness the slaughter.

Surprisingly, director David Grindley does not view it as an anti-war play; his understanding is that it is all about endurance. "I'm very aware of seeing these characters as ordinary people," he said. "Cultural and social barriers break away. They recognise that the only people they can trust to survive is each other. This is a play about men binding together in the light of these psychological pressures to make the best out of the situation they're in."

Talk to any group of soldiers on a tour of duty in Afghanistan today and you'll hear exactly the same thing. Which is why Grindley's fine production of this memorable play is as relevant now and as well worth seeing as it was almost 100 years ago.

MK GALLERY

SHOWCASE 2011 is a series of eight, week-long exhibitions presenting work by local students and fine art graduates in MK Gallery Project Space.

On Friday the spotlight turns on Suzanna Raymond's exhibition Organised Chaos.

A first year student at the University of Northampton, Suzanna will make a site specific installation comprising of found 'junk' from the Milton Keynes area, which will also be featured in related photographs and paintings.

Her work questions how we respond to the reordering of our world through chaotic or uncontrolled events.

Her apparently chaotic and ephemeral installation also questions the permanence and security of the gallery space, while still being bound by the fabric of the building.

The viewer is invited to consider how we respond to change versus our desire for visible stability and continuity in our everyday environments.

Meanwhile, are you scared of spiders or horrified by heights? Everyone has a phobia or fear and Lost & Found returns as part of the Scratch Night presentations showing an evening of short films.

So what's your phobia or fear? Find out at this free event tomorrow at 6.45pm.

Friday Night Films is showing Walkabout (certificate 12), selected by current exhibitor Emma Wilde as part of New Art MK.

Two young children are stranded in the Australian outback and meet an Aborigine on 'walkabout'. Entry to the film, showing at 6.30pm, costs £5 (concessions £3). To pre-book call 01908 676900.

TASTE LIFE

OFTEN when you go for a Chinese meal you end up with a pile of noodles and a plate full of chicken something with rice.

This is not the case at The Eight Blessings Chinese Restaurant where master chef Chengexiang Wang applies his 30 years of experience to produce a vast and varied menu.

Chef Wang's career has carried him from Beijing's Wangfujing Grand Hotel via Yangtze Hotel in Shanghai and Maxins Group in Hong Kong to The Eight Blessings at Exchange House in the CBX on Midsummer Boulevard in the heart of Milton Keynes, just a few paces away from The Hub, Ramada and Jurys Inn.

On the evening we chose to dine, we asked the attentive staff to serve a selection from the menu and what a good move that proved to be.

We started with a traditional mixed selection of crispy seaweed, spare ribs in capital sauce, fried wonton, duck rolls and satay skewers, all cooked to perfection. We even snuck in a portion of steamed pork dumpings, from the dim sum menu, a temptation we could not turn down. Just fantastic.

The ever popular aromatic crispy duck followed for our entree, flavoursome and plentiful, by now we had to loosen a notch on our belts.

Our main course consisted of delightful sizzling fillet steak in a simple black pepper sauce, a melt in your mouth sensation.

This was accompanied by mouthwatering chicken with seasonal vegetables, crisp, light and beautifully presented.

Served with this we had pork in a pleasantly warm, not hot, szechuan sauce - a dish that tantalised the taste buds.

The steamed mushroom rice, wrapped in lotus leaf, was a wonderful fragrant twist to the usual affair that completed the mains prefectly.

Named after a Biblical reference in Matthew's gospel of the Lords eight blessing, this restaurant has an open light feeling where your conversation drifts in the air to mix with the diners around you.

There is ample room for large parties to enjoy an evening out and the menu offers something to suit all tastes and pockets, whether it is the 'eat as much as you like', containing no less than 75 different dishes for £13.90 each plus service charge, or the a la carte with its set menus for both lunchtime and evening diners.

Add to this the chef specials and the huge dim sum menu, and you know that master chef Wang will truly serve up a massive plateful of blessings.

BIG OLNEY FOOD FESTIVAL

CALLING all foodie fans - it's time for the Big Olney Food Festival (BOFF) again.

Organised by Olney Chamber of Trade and sponsored by David Coles Architects, BOFF features food and drink provided by local producers.

This year there'll be a 'Kidz Zone' for the children with activities and face painting, cookery demonstrations, wine tasting and live music. Masterchef finalist James Perry will be at the event and rock band Chocolate Badger will be headlining the festival.

Stalls providing food and drink include Pastures Farm, The Bull Inn, Much Ado Delicatessen, Happy Herefords, Four Pillars Tandoori and Wobbly Bottom Farm. Alcoholic refreshments will be provided by Bacchus, Hopping Mad Brewery and The Bull, while tea, coffee and soft drinks will be provided by Teapots and Beans.

Food and drink will be available throughout the day, simply choose from the fantastic menu, exchange it for the appropriate voucher value and find a seat in the festival marquee.

Books of vouchers cost £16 in advance from various outlets in Olney, or £20 on the day.

For further details about the festival, taking place on Saturday from noon-9pm, visit www.olneychamberoftrade.co.uk.

PARK LIFE

AS SUMMER turns to autumn, September is a great month to observe nature in the parks.

Wildlife changes its behaviour to get ready for the winter months, many trees and shrubs will begin to lose their leaves, while their seeds and fruit ripen to become more bountiful.

Hedgerows are full of fruit and berries, such as hawthorn haws, rose hips, blackberries, sloes and elderberries.

Animals will make use of this harvest month by fattening up for their winter hibernation.

You'll be able to see squirrels and jays as they scurry around to stash their acorns in the ground.

The winged seeds from sycamore, field maple and ash will begin to fall and the horse chestnut will drop its spiky seeds and provide children's treasure in the form of conkers. Looking for the biggest and best nut is a great game.

The ash, beech and sweet chestnut will all be changing colour with tinges of yellow and orange on their leaves.

Look out for some of summer's visiting birds, such as warblers and swallows as they begin their migration south. Many small birds such as tits, chiffchaffs and others will move through the countryside in flocks helping each other to find food.

Fungi such as puffballs, stinkhorns and field mushrooms appear above ground in abundance.

Keep an eye out for the fly agaric, one of Britain's best known and most attractive fungi, with it's classic fairytale toadstool and bright red dome and white spots.

If you'd like to discover more about which wild fruits and berries you can eat, join The Parks Trust at Woughton Orchard on Saturday, 10.30am-1pm, or learn how to identify fungi at one of the trust's adult education sessions at Linford Wood on Saturday, October 15.

Tell me about the club?

Eddie: The club has been running now for over 7 years and from 3 different venues in Northampton. The phenomenal success of the club means we are now bringing Dentokan Karate to families in Milton Keynes. I am the Chief Instructor and have been doing a variety of martial arts for over 16 years. All the instructors in the club are AMA qualified, CRB checked and insured.

So, what's your take on karate?

Eddie: Well, Karate is an excellent self defence system. Now days (in my opinion) there is too much focus on sport karate which tends to favour the young and athletic. Whilst there is a sport element to our 'syllabus', we focus more on karate's roots, which is self defence. That's why Dentokan karate is suitable for all the family.

What will people get from your classes?

Eddie: Well, if you take on board the principles I have mentioned, my students will become physically fitter, mentally stronger, and have the tools to deal with an attack on the street.
My philosophy is 'one club'. We teach adults and children together encouraging family participation. This is something that has worked so well for our club. How often do children and parents learn something together as equals? Our club is a wonderful way for families to come together to do something positive, healthy and that offers a vital skill set. Kids love learning with their parents.

Our classes are also a superb vehicle to help defend against cardiovascular disease, weight gain, diabetes and stress related illnesses.

Finally, Martial arts are great for teaching us a basic lesson in life. With effort, desire and belief you can achieve most things. This is especially important for children to learn.

Is your style of karate different?

Eddie: Firstly, let me say that I would encourage everyone to take up a martial art as long as it is with a good instructor. I am not of the opinion that there is only one way. There are no bad martial arts but there are bad instructors and clubs! To answer the question, I cannot comment on what other instructors teach but what I can say is Dentokan is a very special organisation. It is full of experts in different martial arts keen to share their knowledge. Students will learn punches, kicks, blocks, evasion, locks, takedowns and even some ground grappling. Not only will they learn Karate but Aikijutsu, Goshin Jutsu and Kobudo!

Learn the ultimate in self defence

MK BUSINESS

Cash prize is on the menu for barbecue takeaway firm

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

A MOUTHWATERING city company is in the running to collect a cool £10,000 after being named as one of the top 100 small businesses in the UK.

Percys offers a unique takeaway concept – fresh barbecue food delivered straight to your door – and has been named as a winner in the Smarta 100, which brings together the UK's 'savviest and most enterprising' small firms.

One of the winners will be named as the overall business of the year after a public vote and will pick up the five figure cash prize.

On average, it takes businesses three years and two months of trading before they are named in the 100, but Percys, based in Crownhill, has only been open since May.

It is the brainchild of Tom and Camilla Dyer who have already impressed celebrity chef Phil Vickery with their authentic American-style dishes.

Camilla said: "Winning the Sparta 100 award has blown us away, to gain this national recognition after only being open for three months is a dream come true. We've worked incredibly hard and given everything to create something that is new, exciting and brings some real quality to the takeaway industry – we have big plans for our barbecue food delivered concept."

Percys broke even within its first few weeks and sources all of its meat from the local area.

The business quickly expanded into on-site catering due to customer demand and more outlets are planned for people living outside of the current delivery area.

To vote for Percys visit www.percys-delivered.co.uk and click on the Smarta logo.

Brain Trust workers open Furzton pub

CHARITY workers from the Brain Injury Rehabilitation Trust (BIRT) were invited to officially open the new £400,000 Fayre & Square pub, the Furzton Lake.

BIRT workers were chosen to open the pub, in Oxley Lane, as the team there felt the group deserved to be treated like VIPs for a day.

General manager Kate Houghton said: "We are proud to honour a charity which does so much work to support people with special needs."

A family fun day was held at the pub on Saturday, September 3.

Kate said: "It was great to see the pub packed with people of all ages having fun."

Top marks for supermarket

LIKE many children her age, three-and-a-half-year-old Elise Susanna Grayson was excited to wear her first school uniform.

But mum Katie, 36, struggled to find schoolwear small enough to fit her daughter, who attends Rickley Park Primary School in Bletchley.

Elise was born with a very rare condition called Russell Sliver Syndrome, a form of dwarfism which affects only one in 100,000 people.

She is so tiny she wears children's clothing aged nine to 12 months and as schoolwear generally starts from the age of three Mrs Grayson was not able to find anything suitable.

But Tesco came to the rescue after Bletchley store worker Gina Hollingsworth heard about the problems.

The supermarket's back-to-school team made a bespoke uniform to fit Elise's tiny 83.5cm tall frame.

Katie Grayson said: "This has meant so much for us as a family. Elise is thrilled that she will wear a uniform on her first day of school just like her friends."

MKNEWS BRIEFS

Store offers a wild time

EVER wanted to know what it's like to have a real understanding of living in the wild?

Now you can get the chance, thanks to two-day courses being offered by Cotswold Outdoor store in CMK.

Tickets are now on sale for the two courses - Bushcraft, which offers lessons in skills such as tracking and shelter building, and Wilderness Cookery, which teaches how to light a fire, cook in a pit and butcher a rabbit.

The bespoke courses will take place at a secluded site on a private estate in rural Oxfordshire.

Taking interest in views

NATWEST has begun opening its branch in Queensway, Bletchley, on Saturdays.

The initiative to open the branch for six days a week, has come as a result of customer feedback questionnaires.

Dave picks up award

THE site manager at the Kingston Chase housing development in the city has scooped an award.

Dave Glyn-Smith has received the Pride in the Job Quality Award, which is given by the National House-Building Council.

It is handed out in recognition of those who show dedication to maintaining exceptional standards in housebuilding.

Dave, who works for Taylor Wimpey, previously won a Quality Award in 2009 for the company's Broughton Fields development.

He said: "Everybody at this site has put a lot of work into achieving the highest standards for our customers at Kingston Chase. It's great to have your work recognised by your industry and we're all really pleased to have won this award."

Wool week celebrated

Company or lease car returns ...

Refurbishing your fleet vehicles can save you big time. The cost of repairs from Finishing Touch is a fraction of what you could very well end up paying in penalties for returning damaged vehicles to your leasing agent / fleet provider.
Our approach to fleet repair work is simple - restore vehicles to meet the guidelines laid out in your Fleet Wear and Tear documentation so you avoid penalty fees

F1nishing Touch - Crash repair centre in Milton Keynes, Bucks

Looking for affordable repairs to your vehicle in the Milton Keynes /Buckinghamshire region?
Want high-quality workmanship with quick and friendly service from the local team with more than 30 years' combined experience? Welcome to Finishing Touch ...

Need accident repair? Time to fix that scratch or rust before it turns to costly damage? Perhaps it's time for a change of colour with a full repaint / respray?

At Finishing Touch we use the latest technologies so your vehicle is back on the road quicker and costing less. We handle the full range - from bodywork repairs and panel-beating to SMART repairs of windscreen chips, bumper scuffs and paint scratches.

Our work is backed by manufacturer guarantees and your vehicle is fully-insured while in our care.

Our commitment to great service isn't just talk. Our collection / drop-off service and 24-hour accident roadside recovery means we literally go that extra mile (or few) to save you time and hassle. Not to mention fleet work for business vehicles that will save you a bundle compared to expensive leasing company fees.

If you have used us we have moved behind Stacey Bushes Trading Centre. If you haven't then try us!

MK Dons assistant manager JOHN GORMAN writes exclusively for MK NEWS every week

THIS week I met up with an old friend who I used to play with in America, Terry Moore.

He's doing his coaching badges and asked if he could come over and see what we are doing.

I've not seen him since America but he got in touch with the club and it's been great to meet up with him again.

He was a member of the Canada World Cup squad in 1986 and is now with Crusaders in Belfast.

On Monday morning he watched us train and then we went to the youth team game in the afternoon.

We lost the game against Sheffield Wednesday, which was disappointing, but now we have to see how we respond.

There were some defensive mistakes but that is football.

Dean Lewington made an error of judgement when passing the ball from defence, but that is the way we play and we are not going to change it.

Wednesday play a different style to us and at one point I asked a fan if he wore dark glasses instead of having to watch that every week.

It was all in good spirits and their crowd almost won them the game with the way they got behind their team.

However, it was disappointing to see the reaction when Stephen Gleeson went down injured, because the crowd doesn't know how badly someone is hurt.

It's more disappointing now that our game against Charlton, which was due to be played last night, was pushed back because of the Carling Cup.

It would have been an early chance to put things right and as there was a full schedule we are the only two teams who didn't play.

However, it did give myself, Karl and Paul Mitchell the chance to go and watch some other League One games.

On Saturday our attentions turn to Huddersfield, who (before last night) have not lost a league game for 32 matches. For once, this will mean the pressure is on them. I think we have been favourite in most of our games this season so it will be good to approach the game with a different mindset.

SHEFF WEDNESDAY 3 DONS 1

Luke Chadwick wins the ball from Ben Marshall

Errors prove costly

DONS lost for the first time this season at Hillsborough and slid off the top of League One in the process.

All of the goals came in the second half and from the away side's point of view were entirely avoidable.

After some excellent performances so far this season the word is out about the Dons' brand of passing football, and this style was clearly in evidence in the early going.

At one stage Wednesday could barely get the ball, much to the annoyance of the home crowd, as Dons skillfully played round them.

However, this dominance did not result in too many clear chances and Owls keeper Richard O'Donnell was rarely called into action.

Dons then lost Stephen Gleeson to injury and Wednesday came back into it towards the end of the first half.

The visitors missed the influential Irish midfielder and then became their own worst enemy with errors at the back.

A misplaced pass by Dean Lewington to superb Wednesday substitute Liam Palmer led to Clinton Morrison setting up Gary Madine to score, before Madine was allowed space to thump home a header following Palmer's superb whipped delivery.

Angelo Balanta's fine curling effort reduced the deficit but Palmer found himself in acres of space late on to restore the lead with the goal his performance merited.

Jabo Ibehre was then sent off for a second yellow card.

It could have been different if Dean Bowditch's drive hadn't been superbly saved by O'Donnell at 2-1.

But it wasn't to be and boss Karl Robinson, named as the youngest ever manager of the month on Friday, became a victim of the supposed curse that honour brings with it.

Only one change had been made following last weekend's excellent victory at Carlisle with centre back Mark Beevers, who is on-loan from Wednesday, sitting out as he cannot play against his parent club.

Shaun Williams returned from suspension to partner Gary MacKenzie, a day after signing a new deal which will keep him at stadiummk until June 2013.

Robinson said: "I didn't feel that they worked hard for any of their goals, that's the disappointing thing.

"They were almost gifted them, and we gifted them as a team.

"Their style of play was difficult to play against but their goals didn't come from that, they came from individual errors.

"For the second goal, we pride ourselves on being organised, so giving Madine a free header from six yards out is suicide."

Dons now face another tough game on Saturday, when beaten play-off finalists Huddersfield travel to stadiummk.

The Terriers are in the middle of an amazing 32-match unbeaten streak at the time of writing, and were due to play a scintillating Yorkshire derby with new League One leaders Sheffield United last night.

"We will be going through the goals and making sure that they don't happen again," Robinson said.

"We've now got to refocus our thoughts on Huddersfield."

Alchester 16 Milton Keynes 27

MILTON Keynes began the Southern Counties North League season with a win at newly promoted Alchester.

Kieran McConnell drove over for the first try following a pack move off the line, and Wayne Kelly duly converted.

MK then saw the wrong player receive a yellow card after a high tackle, and Alchester kicked over a penalty and then ran in a try to take the lead.

Rob Matthews then became the second MK player to see yellow, and Alchester added another penalty, but Phil Powell and Kelly then both kicked penalties for MK to level the match at 13-13 before the half-time break.

In the second half the full strength of the MK pack proved too much for Alchester, and the visitors took the lead through a push-over try by Ash Hill which was converted.

Stuart Tomkinson then also saw yellow for MK, but Alchester only kicked a penalty while he was off and they didn't score again. Simon Kockelburgh scored under the posts for MK to round off the scoring.

Bletchley 19 Swindon 35

BLETCHLEY went down to newly promoted Swindon at Manor Fields in the South West 1 East.

Both sides kicked two penalties each in the first half but Swindon edged their way in front with the first try of the game shortly before half-time.

The second period began scrappily but Swindon's winger ran in a 50-yard try to extend his side's lead.

Simon Pitfield scored under the posts to bring Bletchley back into it, and two penalties from Phil Harman put the hosts 19-18 up.

Swindon, however, refused to settle for defeat, and after going back in front with a penalty, they ran in a further two tries late on to complete the win.

MILTON Keynes continued their fine preseason form with a well earned 7-3 victory over a strong Rugby side.

MK made the breakthrough when Brett Holland went on an impressive weaving run before scoring. This was soon followed by debutant Andy Dixon finding the corner of the goal from a well worked short corner.

Nick Gage saved Rugby's penalty stroke, but MK's opponents then pulled one back before grabbing an equaliser.

Ben Woodford put MK back in front after scoring a penalty flick but MK again lost the lead and it was level at half-time.

However, MK came out all guns blazing in the second half, Nick Anderson scoring a stunning reverse strike goal to put the city side back into the lead.

This was followed by another wonder strike by fellow defender Grant Webster to give MK a commanding 5-3 lead, and Dixon and Ian Brooke then rounded off the victory.

STONY Stratford remain in trouble towards the bottom of the Northants Premier League after a disastrous nine-wicket defeat to fellow strugglers Burton Latimer.

After opting to bat, Stony had a horrendous time of it and were bowled out for just 53.

An unbelievable spell of bowling from Waqas Chugtai did the damage, with the Pakistani player finishing with almost unheard of figures of 9/15.

Burton then needed 7.5 overs to chase down the target, losing one wicket.

Seb closing in on second title

Imperious form: Unstoppable Vettel celebrates his success in Italy

SEBASTIAN Vettel continued his stroll towards a second successive Formula One crown on Sunday by claiming Red Bull's first ever victory in the Italian Grand Prix.

The German won ahead of Jenson Button and Fernando Alonso and now leads the standings by a massive 112 points.

It means that he could seal his seemingly inevitable title win when the season continues in Singapore next weekend, with an amazing five races still to go.

There wasn't such good news for team-mate Mark Webber though, who crashed out following a collision with Ferrari's Felipe Massa on lap five.

Both Alonso and Webber, now second and fourth in the standings respectively, gave up their chances of catching Vettel following the race.

The champion-elect started on pole but lost the lead from the start following a brilliant piece of driving from Alonso, who stormed from fourth to the front of the pack by the first bend.

Vettel hung on to second though and got past Alonso with some quality driving of his own, performing a high speed overtake on the famous Curva Grande on lap five.

From there the Red Bull man was seldom troubled on his way to the chequered flag.

There are now a number of scenarios which could see Vettel crowned champion after the night race in Singapore.

But if it doesn't happen there it is surely only a matter of time until the title is secure.

The city based Red Bull team are also dominating the Constructors' Championship, which they lead by 126 points.

Vettel described the win as an 'emotional' one.

He said: "The car was amazing in qualifying yesterday and in the race today it was even better.

"The start was not that good, Fernando was suddenly there and I didn't know where he was coming from.

"This circuit means such a lot to me and is very special. I had my first win here, so when I crossed the line I remembered every single bit of it."

Team principal Christian Horner added: "To win in Monza is a dream come true and it was a really dominant performance by Sebastian today.

"We had great pit work, strong strategy and Seb made a really brave overtaking move to retake the lead from Fernando."

Red Bull Racing has also announced that its partnership with Renault Sport F1 has been extended for five years.

ICE HOCKEY

Former NHL pick Juraj to skate for MK Lightning

MK Lightning have snapped up former NHL pick Juraj Gracik to fill the remaining import slot on the club's roster.

Coach Nick Poole hopes that the 25-year-old Slovakian forward will give his side an even more intimidating attacking threat and Lightning believe that they have 'broken new ground' to bring in their man.

In 2004 Gracik was selected by NHL side Atlanta Thrashers in the prestigious draft picks, the team citing his scoring rate and physical stamina as key factors in their choice.

He wasn't selected to become a regular part of their set up, but the fact that there was interest in the first place means MK have signed a player of real calibre.

Poole said: "We are really pleased to bring Juraj to MK for the coming season.

"It's always exciting for the fans when a new overseas player comes in, and I know it will be for the players too.

"Juraj will bring a new dimension to our game with his size and heavy shot."

Gracik will become Lightning's first Slovakian player and the coming season will be the 6'3" right-winger's first in Western Europe.

After failing to make the Thrashers he signed for Western Hockey League (WHL) side Tri City Americans, registering 51 points in 86 games.

In 2006 he returned to his homeland to join Slovan Bratislava, and he has continued his career in Slovakia until now.

He has also represented his country at U20 and U18 levels.

"He has great pedigree having a very productive season in the WHL where he averaged around a point a game and has also iced with the top team in Slovakia for several seasons," Poole added.

"He is known as an aggressive forechecker and a player that can score goals.

"We feel with the move of bringing Leigh Jamieson up front, coupled with the signing of Juraj, that we will be a very difficult team to defend against.

"We have always been an aggressive forechecking team that looks to put pressure on teams in their own zone and now we will have more power and size to back that up."

Lightning's roster is now back in full training ahead of the new season, when silverware will be very much on the agenda.

Lions see off rivals to bring back Bolds

MK LIONS have successfully brought back one of last season's key players.

Guard Demarius Bolds has signed on for the new season and the city outfit could not be happier to have him on board.

At one stage it looked like the 6'4" player would not be returning to Milton Keynes, as a number of other clubs were interested in his services.

But the Lions persevered and have fended off competition from several of their British Basketball League (BBL) rivals, as well as a number of European clubs, to secure Bolds' services for 2011/12.

The American is highly regarded at the MK Lions arena, and the club has described him as 'one of the most productive players seen here in a long time.'

Last season he lead the BBL in steals with almost three per game, and he also averaged 21 points per match.

He had a 41 per cent success rate from the three point line and dished out over four assists per game.

Coach Mike New could 'barely contain himself' after the Bolds deal had been rubber-stamped.

He said: "Demarius was a key for us last year and for me was a key for us to return this season, he galvanises us offensively while bringing intensity to the defensive end hence leading the BBL in steals."

Bolds, a graduate of Missouri Western University, has also played his basketball in Lithuania and Kosovo.

Lions chief executive Vince Macaulay said he was over the moon with the latest deal.

And he predicted even better things from Bolds when the new season kicks into life.

He said: "Demarius was sensational for us last term, and if you speak to him he'll tell you he hasn't quite found his feet yet.

"I'm very excited to have someone here committed to the Lions with plenty more to offer."

Bolds will return to action as a Lion when visitors Team USA are in town for a friendly, with a 7.30pm start on Friday.

The opposition are made up of promising American players who are touring Europe looking for pro deals, so they will provide MK with a tough test.

The game could also give Lions fans a chance to see some of the other new additions to the roster.

Dons' fury at bad tackles

BY DAN PALMER

KARL Robinson was left fuming after two rash challenges on Stephen Gleeson and Darren Potter on Saturday.

Dons slipped to a 3-1 defeat to Sheffield Wednesday, which ended their unbeaten start to the season, and the tackles on the midfield duo left an extra sour taste in the mouth.

Gleeson had to go off in the first-half after his mazy run was brought to a halt by a high, studs first challenge by Julian Bennett who clattered into his knee.

And Potter was on the receiving end of another crunching challenge by Jermaine Johnson.

Boss Robinson described both incidents as potential leg breakers and the club initially feared that Gleeson had torn his anterior cruciate ligament.

He was seen on crutches on Monday but after a scan Dons are now 'cautiously optimistic' about his progress. However, he will continue to be monitored and could face a spell on the sidelines.

Robinson said: "The tackle on Gleeson was above the knee, and the tackle on Potter was as bad as you're going to see in the Football League this weekend."

Dons asked MK NEWS for pictures of the tackle on Gleeson after Saturday's game.

And for Robinson, losing the Irishman midway through the first half was a key moment in Saturday's League One defeat, as Dons lost their initial spark when he went off.

"We found it hard to keep our momentum," Robinson said.

"It was disappointing that we let them back in but losing Stephen Gleeson was a key turning point."

Insult was added to injury for Dons as ref Phil Gibbs failed to caution both Bennett and Johnson.

However, he did show Jabo Ibehre a second yellow after an innocuous looking tangle with Owls keeper Richard O'Donnell.

"The keeper goes to pick it up and Jabo goes to touch it," Robinson said. "Jabo's arms go up, and the keeper takes a little knock and carries on moving forward. He was booked, but the tackles on Gleeson and Potter got nothing when they could have broken their legs."

Potter shrugs off boo-boys

DARREN Potter was not phased by the reception he received at former club Sheffield Wednesday on Saturday.

The midfielder returned to Hillsborough for the first time since leaving the Owls for the Dons this summer, and was jeered by some members of the home support in the early going.

Wednesday allowed Potter to leave, a decision Dons boss Karl Robinson has described as 'remarkable', and the 26-year-old has gone on to play a key role in the fantastic start to the season which has been enjoyed at stadiummk.

He has arguably been the player of the season so far after forging a highly effective partnership with Stephen Gleeson in front of the back four.

They have performed so well that Robinson believes that both should be attracting the interest of the Republic of Ireland set-up.

The negative reaction back on his old stomping ground was not something that came as surprise to Potter, who took the reception in his stride.

He said: "The boos are part and parcel of the game, you always expect it, especially when you've been at a club, I was there for two-and-a-half years.

"It goes with the territory these days, and you have to get on with it otherwise your game suffers and the team suffers."

Potter said he didn't feel like he had a point to prove when returning to his old club, who came out on top against Dons.

"I came into the game as an MK Dons player and we were sitting top of the league and unbeaten," he said.

"I don't think I had anything to prove to anybody, I was there to do a job for the team."

The Wednesday result was the first blot on the copybook this season, and Potter said that before then the campaign had been close to perfect.

"It couldn't have gone any better really," he said.

"There was a minor slip-up in the first game against Hartlepool but from then on we've been on a fantastic run.

"We can take a lot of positives from the Wednesday game, and we move on now to Huddersfield on Saturday."
